The Academic Year Programme supports the development of academic communication and language skills for international students throughout the calendar year, and is subject to the needs of each individual student.

Can we help you?
Yes, if you: are a member of the University;
a graduate student;
are a post-doc or visiting scholar;
or a member of staff.

What are our aims?
To help you succeed to meet the demands of academic work in your departments by focusing on helping you to improve your communication and language skills.

What do you get if you register?
Visit our website for how to register.

A blend of approaches to suit you:
Workshops will be offered 2-3 workshops per week in term time. These can focus on broad themes or can be specific to the needs of particular groups of students.

Supervisions
Each student has 6 hours of 1-1 supervision time with their dedicated ADTIS supervisor. Supervisions are collaborative and provide a personalised approach to your individual needs. We work with you from the outset to build a programme that will help you develop the skills most important to you.

Virtual Learning Environment
You can access a growing range of multi-resource areas, which can be used to build on work done in workshops or in supervisions, or which can be used independently for self-study.

Can we help you?
Yes, if you are a member of the University and:

What can you do in supervisions?

Supervisions are at the heart of our work with students. They are collaborative and entirely based on responding to individual student needs. Here is a list of some of the topics covered in sessions so far:

• Grammar focus: modals and articles
• Expanding your vocabulary
• Writing better introductions and conclusions
• Paragraph structure to analysing the overall approach to your task.
• Referring to sources and quoting in academic writing
• Critical thinking: method and results
• Techniques for producing effective presentations
• Proofreading, marking and feedback
• Pronunciation of fast speech
• Revising, editing and proofreading your work
• Handling complex sentences
• Presenting skills
• Scientific writing: how to learn from journal articles
• Scientific writing: method and results

What do you get if you register?
- All the above for heavily subsidised fee
- AND you can register at any time during the year
- ALL the above for a heavily subsidised fee
- If you would like to discuss any other access requirements, please contact our reception team using the details below.

Coaching
Work to your full potential with a 1-to-1 ADTIS Coaching session. Coaching is a useful development tool that unlocks individual student needs.

What can you do in workshops?

All the workshops are available online, and are used independently for self-study.

What does the Q&A section.

Supporting the transition to UK higher education; project management; academic style; academic reading; discussion skills; cohesion and coherence in academic writing; presentation skills and methods; university life; learning time management; writing better emails; adapting to the UK academic system.

What do our students say...
"I found the workshops really useful and was amazed how much I could cover in 2 hours!"
"Getting individual feedback on my written work in supervisions really helped me to strengthen my writing."
"I found the workshops really useful and was amazed how much I could cover in 2 hours!"
"Getting individual feedback on my written work in supervisions really helped me to strengthen my writing."
"I have become much more confident in my academic English ability and my academic skills. Thank you!"
"I have become much more confident in my academic English ability and my academic skills. Thank you!"